ABOUT HISAM

© Jose Roces

The No. 1 Capitol District Building occupies a site in downtown Honolulu with a rich history. The Hawaiian Hotel, later called the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, was built on the site in 1872 and relocated to Waikiki in the early 20th century. The Army and Navy YMCA then used the original building before it was demolished and reconstructed in 1927 in its present form. In 2000, the building was acquired by the State and became the home of the Hawaii'i State Foundation on Culture and the Arts and the Hawaii'i State Art Museum.

The Hawaii State Art Museum (HiSAM) is the primary venue for the display and interpretation of the Art in Public Places (APP) Collection, the largest collection of contemporary Hawaii art.

In 1967 Hawaii'i became the first state in the nation to adopt a "Percent for Art Law." This visionary legislation sets aside one percent of all state building construction costs for the acquisition of works of art.
